Cover is given for majority of interests for physical loss or damage to goods whilst in transit and in store worldwide. Coverage is principally given on an all risk basis including war and strikes risks (subject to the waterborne agreement). Interests can include everything from base commodities such as oil, coal, metals to foodstuffs such as frozen fish, canned goods to manufactured goods such as textiles and satellites (pre launch only). Additional coverage's for consequential loss (following a marine peril) and bailee liability may also be considered. The account is international but with a focus on UK through our service company Amlin Transit.

Biography: Andy has over 24 years' experience in the cargo insurance market, having been trained with Royal Insurance in cargo, hull and yacht marine classes and then specialising in cargo related business for 16 years as a Lloyd's broker with Horace Holman & Co. Ltd. He joined Amlin Transit as an underwriter in 2000 and moved to the Amlin Syndicate to take over his current Cargo Underwriter role in 2005.
