

Name: Alan Giles

Company / Syndicate: Amlin Transit

Location: London, St. Helen's

Book of Business: Cargo & Goods in Transit

Cover is given for majority of interests for physical loss or damage to goods whilst in transit and in store worldwide. Coverage is principally given on an all risk basis including war and strikes risks (subject to the waterborne agreement). Interests can include everything from base commodities such as oil, coal, metals to foodstuffs such as frozen fish, canned goods to manufactured goods such as textiles and satellites (pre launch only). Additional coverage's for consequential loss (following a marine peril) and bailee liability may also be considered. The account is international but with a focus on UK through our service company Amlin Transit.

Biography: Prior to joining Amlin, Alan has held various underwriting positions within the Lloyd's Market since he joined over thirty years ago. During this time Alan has also underwritten hull, aviation, non-marine and bloodstock.

Alan's role at Amlin is to underwrite a UK and international account and provide support to Amlin Transit and the Lloyd's cargo account.
